Introduction to the Shaw Survey 1853

Why John Shaw, Derby based surveyor, surveyed the parish of Greasley in 1853 is unknown, and, at present, the only known copy of his map is with the Nottinghamshire Archives: they have been unable thus far to establish its provenance. It is believed that a copy hung in the former Watnall Hall though what happened to that copy is unknown as well. What can be said is that the survey is detailed, accurate and beautiful to look at. It is on a scale of 25 inches to the mile, and on one large roll 15 feet by 8 feet 6 inches, and because of its accuracy was commonly used for legal purposes.

It was accompanied by a written description noting the proprietors, the occupiers, down to sub tenants of sub tenants, a numbered reference to each land parcel, with its name, use (arable, wood or pasture), and area in acres, roods and perches. Lord Melbourne had a copy made in connection with the mineral rights, and a brief history of ownership back to 1765 was added, but it refers only to the Hamlet of Kimberley (Notts. Archives DDLM 210/21). No trace of the rest of the descriptive survey appeared to have survived. However, J E Hobbs, schoolmaster at the British (or Undenominational) School, Newdigate Lane, Kimberley from after the First World War up to 1946, found some lads with a bound book, which they had retrieved from a tip at Eastwood. It had been damaged, with some pages removed or defaced, but he recognised its interest and took possession of it. For a period it was placed in the Notts Archives, but was retrieved, later, by his son, John. On the front cover is a stamp of date of receipt by "MP", 26th April, 1853, but it isn't obvious whom that may be.

John Hobbs permitted John Lee to photograph the remaining pages (which cover the Hamlets of Brinsley, Kimberley, Moor Green, Newthorpe, Watnall Cantelupe and Watnall Chaworth). The photographs were transcribed by Donald Webb, and the proofs read and corrected as necessary by John Lee. The corrected transcription has been placed on CD with the original photographs. Thanks to a Lottery grant, it has been possible to conserve the map in the care of Nottinghamshire Archives, and with the transcription now available, it is possible once again to consult the full surviving Survey.

Detail
John Shaw's original map has a large top border used for the title and compass points. There are therefore large areas on maps 1.1.1; 1.1.2; and 1.1.3 with no topographical detail. The geometry of the compass and title is of interest.

Images
The centre top Yellow and Red 'sun icons' increase and decrease the brightness/hue/contrast of the image. The Yellow crossed-out image restores the setting. Clicking the red icon several times will increase hue and contrast [gamma setting]

Thumbnails
The default setting is for small thumbnail views. Click '2' for large thumbnails and '3' for the file list.

Restore
Viewer settings are restored to default each time the CD is inserted.

Print
Individual maps are too large to print in detail on A4; there are several ways to print off a small section.
eg. i] Click File, Copy to Clipboard. ii] Open New blank page in any photo editor prog, right click and Paste. iii] Use the selection arrow to select and print all, or part, of the map.

Word Files
A copy of the five transcripts for Brinsley, Kimberley, Moorgreen, Newthorpe and Watnall are included on the CD in .doc format in a separate folder called 'Transcripts'. They will open in MS Word and Wordpad. This can be used to quickly locate a transcript entry from a map plot number.
eg 1. To find details of plot number 653a in Watnall. Open 'Watnall.doc' in Word/Wordpad. Click Edit, Find, [or Ctrl+F] and type in 653a, click on Find next; 653a is now highlighted as 'Toll House' owned by the 'Alfreton Turnpike Commission', the area is 2 perches.
eg 2. To find details of plot number 1734 on map 1.3.2. Open Brinsley.doc Click Edit, Find, [or Ctrl+F] and type 1734, click on Find next; 1734 is highlighted as a 'Cottage and Garden' on a plot of 15 perches. The occupant is given as John Lawrence. [grandfather of the author D H Lawrence]

The Chinemarelian History Society started in 1989 with the publication of 'Kimberley - in Old Picture Postcards'; by the late Arthur Plumb. The founding members were Steve Arundel, Peter Keating, Ann Bell, Stan Hough, Ken Marsland, Alf Henshaw and the Plumb family, the essential lifeblood of history in the area.
Members John Lee and Roger Grimes are currently involved in the study and mapping of mining in the area. John Lee has published three brief histories; Kimberley, Awsworth and Watnall; his web site is www.johnshistorybooks.co.uk. Following his research in South Africa, Don Webb has published 'Baron von Hube Vicar of Greasley 1866-1907'.
Chinemarelie is the Norman-French spelling for the Kimberley entry in the Domesday Survey of 1086. It is not the earliest name, Kimberley has had various spellings, both before and after the conquest.

Map to CD
John Shaw's map had not previously been copied because of its size. Scanning became possible in October 2006 when the Coal Authority completed the installation of 'The Largest Scanning Facility of its kind in Europe'. Overhead scanners are able to handle documents up to three metres in width and any length. Scanned images are transferred to a bank of network computers; scanned sections are stitched electronically.
Following six weeks of restoration by Dave Ackrel the map was released by the archives; on 25 October 2006 Roger Grimes, John Lee and Dave Ackrel took the map to be scanned.
In its original format the image filled three DVDs; the map was then divided into 30 sections for viewing on computer. At around 16 MB each section the 30 Tif images were too large to open on a home computer, it was therefore necessary to convert to low-loss Jpegs sized at 3000pix by 1800pix; pixel size was reduced further by removing borders from the images. Jpeg compression reduced the images to 158KB; a size that will decompress comfortably on a home computer and enables the whole project to fit onto a single CD.
Pixel size was selected to display the maps on-screen the same size -or slightly larger- than the viewer would see if looking at the original map. Reduction was in direct ratio to the original scan to minimize loss of quality. A final adjustment to colour gradation was made to the viewer colour management setting, gamma level was lowered to 0.600; -this can be re-set under 'Options' 'Colour Management' in the 'Tools' menu- the resulting image quality is better than expected and colour density and gradation is much better than on print-outs taken directly from the original Tif files. Compression has not degraded image quality, but limits the degree of magnification possible when using the viewer magnifier. Best view quality is actual size.
